A woman with long dark hair, wearing a bright yellow one-piece swimsuit and dark sunglasses, is lying on her back on a long, narrow inflatable float. She has her hands behind her head and is smiling. The float is primarily blue with green trim and a green leaf pattern. The brand name 'swimways' is visible in white on the green trim near her feet. The float is in clear, turquoise water with visible ripples. The background is a solid blue gradient.

swim steps™

Swimways
Proudly Supports

SwimWays Swim Steps™ has been helping kids learn to swim for over 50 years—longer than anyone else. We believe that every child should be taught to swim for their safety, as well as for fun.

Easy step by step program & products to take your little ones safely from water introduction to independent swimming.

WATER INTRODUCTION

Kids are introduced to the water for the very first time, either in a safe & secure baby float or in the arms of Mom & Dad.

WATER EXPLORATION

Kids are kicking, splashing, paddling & maybe even blowing bubbles at the water surface.

INDEPENDENT SWIMMING

Kids learn to swim entirely on their own without a swim aid. Jumping & diving underwater become second nature for kids at this stage.

AEROBIE

Founded in 1985 by Stanford Engineering Professor Alan Adler, Aerobie™ has a rich heritage rooted in performance, innovation and fun. After noticing the shortcomings of other discs, Professor Adler set out to engineer the world's farthest throwing disc. The results: the Pro Ring went on to break the world record, soaring over 1,333 feet! This led to Aerobie's performance laden features in our full line of rings and discs. Aerobie is a world leader in performance flight.
